

February 20, 1952

Dear Dr. Orskov:

Although there are several professors and researchers on this campus who are interested in the actinomycetes, we have no copy of your 1923 monograph either among ourselves, or in our University Library. Is there any possibility that the monograph is still in print? Failing this, may I have your permission to prepare a microfilm reproduction for the benefit of our students and research workers?

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
Associate Professor of Genetics